Need a last-minute gift? 15 fun, affordable ideas

Celebrity-endorsed sweets, spa certificates, flower gardens and much more updated 10:16 a.m. CT, Wed., Dec. 23, 2009

Robyn Spizman of TheGiftnation.com shares quick ideas to help you look like a holiday hero (even if you waited until the last minute):

Tickle monster kit

Kids and parents alike will get a laugh out of The Tickle Monster Laughter Kit for ages 3 to 5. Written by Josie Bissett (remember Jane from "Melrose Place"?), this lovable blue monster is out to tickle any child within reach, but he'll need mom and dad's help! Includes a pair of Magical Tickle Monster Mitts for parents to wear while reading. Fingertip holes make it easy to turn pages and stir up a monster load of fun. Tickle Monster Laughter Kit, $34, uncommongoods.com

Make a monster

Yikes! Is there a monster under the bed? On Christmas morning, send a gift certificate online, where you and your child can design a one-of-a-kind plush monster. With millions of unique possibilities, your child's monster will truly be one-of-a-kind. Monsters ship in 10 days or less and are delivered by e-mail in a flash! $25.00, curlyqcuties.com
